To Whom it May Concern,

Thank you for reaching out and giving the Wagners an opportunity to formally address a TikTok video that is being weaponized to create a false narrative to negatively characterize the Wagner family as “racist.” This incomplete video is being used to coordinate a cyberbullying campaign against an honest, patriotic, kind, and hard-working family.

The Wagners categorically deny any and all allegations implied by this video. This is a situation where a provocateur is capitalizing on political tensions to play the victim, rather than the primary aggressor. First, the clip does not include the statements and racial slurs that were launched at Mr. Wagner that are too inappropriate to be mentioned in a public statement. The circulating clip lacks critical context.

The Wagners do not conduct themselves in a racist manner personally or professionally. In fact, the Wagners are the epitome of proud Americans who believe in the dignity and equal worth of every human being, regardless of background. We are calling on all news stations and media outlets to exercise journalistic responsibility before amplifying the narrative built on an incomplete and misleading video. We ask that we be contacted before anything related to this video is published.

Additionally, this is a situation that has led to undeserved bullying, harassment, and other tortious acts. Therefore, we will pursue all legal actions against those involved in these acts. We have also contacted law enforcement to pursue any potential criminal charges, including the Department of Justice.

Respectfully submitted,
